

U.S. DOE probing possible antisemitism at Cal Poly Humboldt

MAD RIVER UNION
WASHINGTON, D.C. – The U.S. Department of Education last week announced that it has opened an investigation into possible antisemitism at Cal Poly Humboldt. The probe follows a March complaint by the Brandeis Center and the Jewish on Campus organization alleging that CPH had violated the Civil Rights Act during Gaza-related protests on campus last year.

CPH Interim President Michael Spagna has stated that the university is fully cooperating with the DOE, and that antisemitism won't be tolerated on campus.

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION
Washington, D.C. – The U.S. Department of Education's Office for Civil Rights (OCR) last week opened an investigation into a complaint filed by The Louis D. Brandeis Center for Human Rights Under Law and Jewish on Campus against California State Polytechnic (Cal Poly), Humboldt. The organizations allege that the university is in violation of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 by cultivating a campus environment that allowed for the verbal and physical harassment, exclusion, and abuse of Jewish students.

"Not only did the Cal Poly administration refuse to prosecute brazen, violent acts of anti-Semitism, but they allowed their students to be victimized over and over, offering them nothing but a callous disregard for their continued harassment," said Hon. Kenneth L. Marcus, chairman of the Brandeis Center and the former U.S. Assistant Secretary of Education who ran the Department of Education's Office for Civil Rights, the office that investigates these complaints, during two administrations. "We hope this investigation will force Cal Poly to stop sweeping anti-Semitism under the rug, and it will serve as a sign to all uni-

Three BL electeds face citizen recall effort

MAD RIVER UNION
BLUE LAKE – Three Blue Lake City Council members were served with recall notices at their May 27 meeting. In supplying Mayor John Sawatzky, Mayor Pro-Tem Elise Scafani and Councilmember Kat Napier with recall petitions, citizen Elissa Rosado said the council majority was placing the peaceable hamlet at risk.

In a video clip posted on the Lost Coast Outpost, Rosado cited the three councilmembers had "exposed the city of Blue Lake to financial, legal and operational jeopardy" by refusing to adopt a state-required housing element and by firing City Manager Amanda "Mandy" Mager without justification. The abrupt termination may have violated the Ralph M. Brown Act ensuring open meetings.

"These two acts have placed the city in jeopardy of potential lawsuits, of contractors, eyes from the state, and loss of local control," Rosado said.

Should the county Elections Office verify the validity of recall petition signatures reflecting one-third of Blue Lake's registered voters, a recall election will be scheduled.

Hiller Road 'quick build' concepts solidify

MAD RIVER UNION
MCKINLEYVILLE – The McKinleyville Municipal Advisory Committee has reached an agreement on three out of four proposals for a temporary project to slow traffic on Hiller Road.

At its May 28 meeting, the committee voted unanimously in favor of a Humboldt County Public Works proposal to do a "quick build" project on Hiller Road between Central Avenue and McKinleyville Avenue. The project would utilize plastic bollards and paint to create low-cost traffic calming measures to make the roadway safer for pedestrians and bicyclists.

The lanes would be narrowed to 10 feet each. A chicane, or slight curve, would be placed on Hiller near the residences west of Grace Good Shepherd Church. Closer to Central Avenue, there would be buffered bike lanes, separated from traffic by plastic bollards and empty space, which may be painted by local artists.

"The intent here is to calm the traffic down on the raceway we call Hiller [Road]," said Public Works Director Tom Mattson.

The only part of the project that committee was unable to reach agreement on is what to do with the intersection of Hiller Road and McKinleyville Avenue. At the committee's last meeting, it voted to have Mattson come back with a draft design for a temporary roundabout. Mattson, however, said he thought the committee was concerned about the roundabout, so he returned with plans for a bulb out, which would narrow the wide intersection and create crosswalks and painted areas.

The committee, however, said it was interested in the roundabout idea, although it wanted to see the design before backing it.

"I'm in no rush to put something on the ground that nobody really likes, so we can table this intersection," Mattson said. A design for the roundabout will be brought back to McKMAC at its June 25 meeting.

Process complaints arise over McK Town Center

Jack Durham
MAD RIVER UNION
MCKINLEYVILLE – Over the past five years, the McKinleyville Municipal Advisory Committee has held more than 40 public meetings to talk about the McKinleyville Town Center.

These have included town hall meetings with pizza, workshops, updates at regularly scheduled monthly meetings and even a joint meeting the McKinleyville Community Services District.

Notices of all these meetings were posted on bulletin boards, on social media, websites and in various local news outlets.

But after a handful of McKinleyville residents complained recently that they were unaware of the proposed town center ordinance and a feel like their voices aren't being heard, County Planning Director John Ford is warning the advisory committee that this could be a problem.

"This is painful to say, but what I hear being said right now is a fundamental disagreement with what we've done so far," Ford told the committee at its May 28 meeting.

"Yeah, but what you have is five or six people in this room," interjected McKinleyville resident Greg Orsini, who has attended almost all of the meetings over the past five years and helped create the draft land use ordinance along with his fellow committee members.

Ford said that what he is hearing from people is that they're feel like they haven't been listened to.

"My experience tells me that if people are saying 'we don't feel like we've been heard,' that same refrain will be stated at the planning commission and board," Ford said. "So I think the McKMAC should weigh that heavily before we continue."

Eureka Friday Night Market offers much music, food, art

HUMBOLDT MADE
EUREKA — The beloved Eureka Friday Night Market returns this summer, launching its 2025 season on Friday, June 6 and running every Friday through Aug. 29 from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. in Old Town Eureka.

Hosted by Humboldt Made with the City of Eureka, the North Coast Growers' Association and local partners, the Friday Night Market brings together three stages of live music and over 200 local vendors, a certified Farmers Market, street food vendors, food trucks and sweet treats plus a bar featuring Humboldt-made beer, wine and craft cocktails.

Each night also includes a rotating themed dress-up night, announced monthly. June's themes are:

June 6 — Coastal Creatures (with Humboldt Dockside Market): Celebrate the sea with mermaids, sailors and ocean-themed attire.

June 13 — Myth & Mischiefs (with Dell'Arte): Goblins, fauns, tricksters and local legends come to life in this imaginative, theatrical evening.

June 20 — Golden Hour (with North Coast Rape Crisis Team): A solstice-inspired "Yellow Day"— be the sun, emit light and shine bright.

June 27 — Retro Rodeo: Think '70s cowboy— bell bottoms, fringe, and disco western boots.

Live performances take place weekly across three stages: the Gazebo Stage, Clark Plaza Stage, and Romano Gabriel Stage (hosted by Ink People).

This season also features official poster artwork by local illustrator Josh Overington, whose watercolor designs beautifully capture the spirit of the market and the wild energy of Humboldt County.

"This event is about more than just shopping or entertainment," said Rosa Dixon, executive director of Humboldt Made. "It's about showing up for one another and investing in the community we all love. Friday Night Market represents the heart of Humboldt — creative, welcoming and deeply rooted in local pride."

ue to charge down this path."

Ford explained that the goal of the planning effort was to try to have the McKMAC reach some sort of consensus on the Town Center plan. With strong community support, the plan would likely make it through the Humboldt County Planning Commission and Board of Supervisor largely intact.

"My fear is that there is not consensus in the community about this and it will just be a fight at the planning commission," Ford said. "I would professionally recommend that you weigh that."

Ford was at the meeting to explain the process for approving the ordinance that would dictate land use in the McKinleyville Town Center, an area roughly between Heartwood Drive and Railroad Drive, and Pierson Park and McKinleyville Avenue.

On April 11, the county released a the draft environmental impact report for the McKinleyville Town Center ordinance. The public input period on the DEIR ended May 27.

A final EIR will be prepared and the Humboldt County Planning Commission may consider approval of the town center plan on Aug. 21 and Sept. 4. It would then go to the Board of Supervisors for final approval on Oct. 7.

Fifth District Supervisor Steve Madrone suggested that the committee identify the top four or five issues that people are concerned about, and then make sure everyone know the facts about these issues.

The committee did not take any action on the matter.

Among the critics of the process of creating the Town Center ordinance is McKinleyville resident Kelley Garrett, who created an online petition asking that the public comment period be extended beyond May 27.

"As a long-time resident of McKinleyville, I know many in our community are deeply invested in the development of our town, which is why the current rush to finalize the Draft Environmental Impact Report (DEIR) for the McKinleyville Town Center is concerning," Kelley wrote in the petition, which was signed by 71 people. "The limited public comment period for a technical document of over 1,000 pages restricts our community's ability to engage thoroughly on the contents of this comprehensive report. Our community deserves ample time to review, reflect, and provide constructive feedback on plans that will ultimately shape the heart of our town."

Kelley also submitted a similar petition, with 31 signatures, on paper, to the McKMAC at its May 28 meeting.

Another person at the meeting asked what the county was doing to encourage "public engagement," while another person questioned why she wasn't notified about the project on her McKinleyville Community Services District utility bill. A representative of the MCSD noted that the Town Center plan is a county project, not an MCSD project.

The objections are similar to those lodged by skeptics of Arcata's recently enacted General Plan 2045 and Gateway Area Plan.

During that multi-year process, a handful of frequent speakers complained of being misled, condemned elected leaders and planners as "not listening" and bemoaned what they called a rushed process lacking adequate opportunity for public comment, accompanied by demands for extended and independent review.

versities: indifference to bigotry and hatred will not be tolerated."

According to the original complaint, Jewish students were repeatedly attacked, forced out of areas of campus, and subjected to ongoing anti-Semitism on campus grounds. Anti-Israel campus protestors threw fake blood on Jewish students, vandalized campus property with anti-Semitic slurs, and yelled chants that glorified Hamas through a megaphone and taunted Jewish students with messages like "go away Nazis" and "Zionists are all homophobes" while the students were trying to celebrate a Jewish holiday.

Instead of addressing the blatant anti-Semitism on campus, Cal Poly's administration allegedly put the onus on Jewish students, encouraging them to hide their identity to avoid being targeted. In one instance, a Cal Poly student approached Chabad, a Jewish student group that was tabling at a club fair, and began shouting that the Jewish students were baby killers, genocide supporters and land stealers. The student grabbed items off the table and put his body in front of Chabad's station — scaring off other students and physically blocking them from approaching — and inserted himself between the rabbi and students who were engaged in discussion. Instead of reprimanding the assailant for the disruptive behavior or intervening in the encounter, the Associate Dean for Student Life told the Jewish students that they should pack up and leave the fair. In another instance, after a ritual item was stolen from Jewish students, the administration told the Jewish students that they should take additional steps to avoid further theft.

These are just two of the many examples where the university encouraged Jewish students to ignore the harassment and retreat. According to the complaint, "[t]he message from the University to Jewish students is clear: downplay your Jewish identity on campus or hide to avoid being targeted because the University will not protect you." Jewish students report fearing for their safety and being denied opportunities, with some leaving campus as a result.

"All students deserve equal access to campus life; Jewish students must be no exception. At a time of rising campus tension, universities must understand that discrimination against and harassment of Jewish students on the basis of their national origin is not political," said Jewish on Campus CEO Julia Jassey. "Jewish students should not fear for their safety while celebrating holidays or expressing their identities openly. Civil rights are the benchmark of a healthy democracy, and we hope that this complaint can motivate positive change to campus life at CalPoly Humboldt."

In addition, the Department of Education recently announced investigations into Brandeis Center complaints filed against UMass Amherst, DC's American University, Yale University, Scripps College, and the Fulton County School District. Other ongoing investigations brought on by Brandeis Center complaints include Wellesley, and University of Southern California (USC), while settlement agreements have been reached with other schools including SUNY New Paltz and the University of Illinois.

Visit the shelter on Adopt-A Pet Day

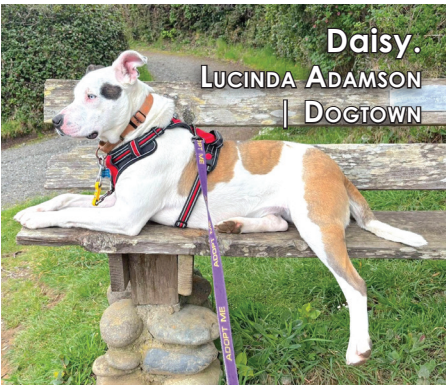

Next Saturday is California Adopt-A-Pet Day! Our Humboldt County Animal Shelter, located at 980 Lycoming Ave. in McKinleyville, will be open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. for you to meet the available dogs and cats.

Adoption fees are being covered by the ASPCA. All the dogs and cats are spayed or neutered, vaccinated, and microchipped. If you’ve been considering bringing a new pet into your home, this would be a great day to do it!

Among the dogs that will be up for adoption will be the available dogs that we had at the start of the Kinetic Sculpture Race on the Arcata Plaza. They were such wonderful ambassadors for the shelter! Our sweet Daisy even humored us by wearing a GoPro (a video recording device) as she made the rounds meeting the spectators and other dogs.

Please visit our Humboldt County Animal Shelter Facebook page to see Daisy’s videos and more photos of the dogs that attended the three days of Kinetic fun!

Miss Daisy will be one of the dogs available on Saturday. She is about a year-and-a-half old and might be the dog voted “Most Popular” among the canines at the shelter. On our whiteboard that lists the dogs’ walking buddies, Daisy’s list barely fits in the space provided!

We can count on her to be good company for any dog that needs a new friend to walk with. She is the big sister to my Frannie and had fun playing with her when they met before the Race.

Daisy loves to get out for adventures – volunteers have taken her to the beach, Trinidad Head, and the kite festival – and enjoys her walks and play yard time, with or without another dog. She’s been good with children who have come up to her while out and about. Let’s find this good girl a forever home.

Hope to see you Saturday at the shelter! More info is at (707) 840-9132.

The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (800) 683-2468 or visit this Internet Web site: www.servicelinkASAP.com, using the Trustee Sale number assigned to this file, T.S. #25021-RT. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an “eligible tenant buyer,” you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an “eligible bidder,” you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (800) 683-2468, or visit this internet website www.servicelinkASAP.com, using the file number assigned to this case 25021-RT to find the date on which the trustee’s sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee’s sale. Third, you must submit a bid, by remitting the funds and affidavit described in Section 2924m(c) of the Civil Code, so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee’s sale. If you think you may qualify as an “eligible tenant buyer” or “eligible bidder,” you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. UNDER THE SEA Above and below, aspects of the new aquatic panorama for Valley West.

NEROLI DEVANEY | ALL THINGS ART

We are excited to announce that a colorful and impactful native plant and animal-themed mural has transformed yet another surface in the Valley West neighborhood of Arcata! Organized by Jullia Finkelstein, owner of the Epitome Gallery in Eureka, this project not only highlights her skills as an experienced muralist, but has also brought together the talents of many other artists. The mural builds upon Jullia’s many other native plant- and animal-themed murals, and highlights the beauty we are so lucky to have around us. You can find one of her other murals wrapped around the bathroom at Carlson Park, and if you look east from there, you’ll see this one lining the fence along Carlson Park Drive.

This mural features a panorama of native plants and animals, flowing through the diverse habitats that make Humboldt County so special. The mural takes viewers through lush green forests and winding rivers, into the ocean, and continues to dive until it reaches the flora and fauna of the deep sea. The mural is a testament to the beauty we are surrounded by every day, whether we consciously think about it or not.

In speaking with her, Jullia emphasized how important it is now, more than ever, to notice and appreciate the good things we have in our lives.

“It’s important, especially after the election and all the news lately, to remind ourselves of the incredible things we still have,” Jullia said. “We should highlight the good and appreciate the blessings.”

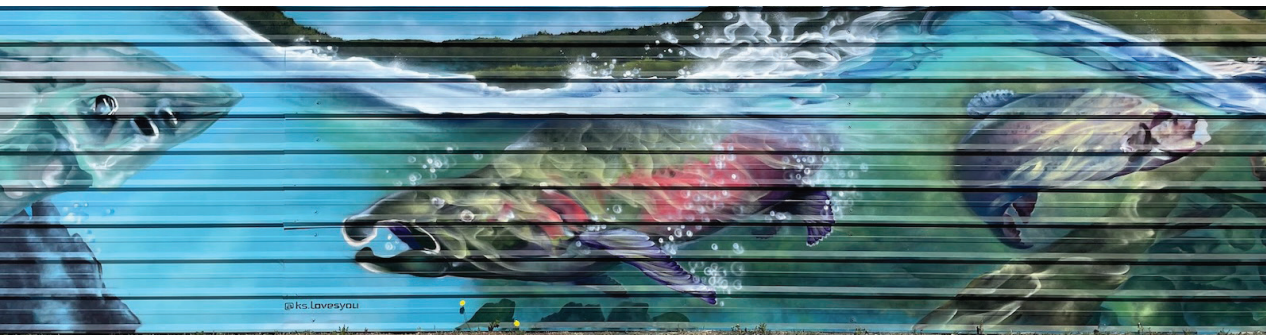

Jullia is happy to be working alongside the City of Arcata and the Wiyot Tribe, who together have been beautifying and cleaning up the Carlson Park area over recent years. The Carlson Park area is ancestral Wiyot land and the village site of Da’Guluvagou’y. The Wiyot Tribe has contributed greatly to the educational aspect of work here along the Baduwa’t River, labeling trailheads and more.

With all of this in mind, the project doesn’t intend to end here! Jullia and the team have even bigger plans: they’re dreaming of wrapping the mural around to face the pickle ball court, extending the visuals for even more people to enjoy. This is about more than just paint on a wall — it’s about community, creativity and a shared appreciation for the natural world we live in.

Of course, big dreams like this don’t come for free. It costs about $19 per square foot to bring this mural to life, and Jullia is calling on anyone who wants to be a part of this beautification effort to pitch in. This work is for everyone and any little bit gets them closer to the goal. This project is building something that the whole neighborhood

Christopher Dmise is a legendary artist who is known for his impact in the graffiti, street art scene. He has been painting murals for over 20 years. His attention to detail and use of vibrant colors delight the senses and inspire his audience to see the world differently. He displays his diverse talent by doing paintings that focus on themes such as nature, fantasy, realism, abstract design, and letter font formations. Dmise has a huge body of work that can be seen throughout Humboldt County, in various cities across the USA and on multiple online platforms. He paints everyday in order to stay grounded, and loves to participate in community events doing live art and pupils’ murals to help uplift and entertain others.

With his unmistakable baritone voice and 6-and-a-half foot charm, Chali 2na has established himself as one of hip-hop’s preeminent and most charismatic personalities. He’s also garnered renowned praise as a visual artist across a wide spectrum of canvases. Most known for co-founding music groups, Jurassic 5 and Ozomatli, Chali released his debut solo album Fish Outta Water in 2009. Since then, can enjoy for years to come.

Joining Jullia on this endeavor are renowned mural artists Chali 2na, Christopher Dmise, Miss Teal and Kyle Sanders. Each of these artists have brought their own unique style to the mural, and pulled upon their own knowledge to bring the mural to life.

Kyle Sanders has been creating murals reflecting their local environment and community for over 10 years. This practice has led him to work with international organizations such as Pangeaseed’s SeaWalls project, an ecological conservation non profit using art to promote environmental restoration and outreach. Kyle has worked with curated street art festivals We. Art Sand City and Eureka Street Art Festival. He has painted numerous murals internationally in the countries of Mexico, New Zealand, Indonesia and Peru. He has left work in rural communities of Maine, Virginia, and many corners of Humboldt County. This is a practice he has found the most fulfillment in his life, while also being one of its greatest challenges. You can find more of his work on instagram at @ks.lovesyou.

he has toured the world 10 times over with his three-piece band known as the House Of Vibe. Breathing new life into his musical upbringings, in 2013 he embarked on a career defining mission called “Against The Current,” a music + art project that combines a five-part series of genre-bending EPs with a coffee table book featuring original artwork and photography from Chali himself.

Erika “Miss Teal” Rosendale hails from the redwoods and sandy seas of California, developing an art practice at an early age inspired by comic books, and a superhero complex to save the world with art. Traveling the globe to build the art army and share her vision, she has painted in multiple international festivals in South America and the UK, with Germany, Finland, and Denmark on the horizon for this summer. The mobile mural journey started with her home squad Made Fresh Crew, and running the operations team for Sea Walls – Santa Cruz with Pangeaseed Foundation in the Fall of 2021. Since then she has painted in the Sand City Mural Festival, Wide Open Walls, Domo Walls, Live Art Walls and Paint St. Louis where she was invited to participate in a record-breaking collaboration with Few and Far Women for their 13th Anniversary with the most women and most artists on one production. A multi-award winner for public art, she most recently took home a regional gold for the National Mural Awards. With a style dubbed “elemental surrealism,” often depicting large-scale wildlife and figurative narratives combined with atmospheric effects using mostly aerosol, she seeks to bring fine art to the streets, fusing art and activism to inspire others in finding and fostering their creativity. Miss Teal’s work is a site-specific collaboration with the local culture, environment and inspiration for sustainable progress.

Jullia Finkelstein is the owner and operator of The Epitome Gallery (420 Second At. Eureka), a gallery that promotes the advancement of artistic expression for artists, muralists, street artists, and hip hop culture, by providing art supplies, spray paint, art books, designer toys and exhibition space. Jullia was a member of Empire Squared, a gallery located at 47B West Third St., Eureka, from 2003-2013, where she helped facilitate and contributed to many exhibits and a variety of events. Jullia also facilitated the mural at the Garberville Skate Park Skate Ramp, where she painted a hummingbird. Jullia has murals throughout Humboldt County, including at the Avenue Cafe in Miranda. She painted the mural that was at The Madrone Tap-house in Eureka, which recently closed its doors.

Jullia received a BA from HSU in Art Education and Studio Art with an emphasis in painting. For over 15 years Jullia has also enjoyed doing live art at a variety of venues including The Red Fox Tavern, The Jam Arcata and more recently at The Basement.

Interested in connecting with her? She can be contacted for murals, commissions or private painting lessons. Over the summer she will also offer stenciling and painting workshops at The Epitome Gallery.

For those interested in contributing to the Valley West mural or learning more about any of this, Jullia can be reached at theepitomegallery@gmail.com or by calling the gallery at (707)498-1541

NATURAL BALANCE On the morning of May 29, 700 local students spent their school day being stewards of the coastal dunes during the 20th Annual Kids Ocean Day event at the Mike Thompson Wildlife Area, South Spit of the Humboldt Bay. After spending the day restoring dune habitat and picking up trash, students, teachers, and volunteers formed an aerial art image of a sea otter and bull kelp with the message “Restore Balance.” The aerial art image was designed by Jess Barger. MCK BMX PARK GROUNDBREAKING
MCS D IN ACTION MCS D directors, staff, park advocates and contractors were on hand to celebrate the long-awaited ground-breaking. KLH | UNION

MAD RIVER UNION
ARCATA – As earth-moving equipment roared in the background last Friday, members of the McKinleyville Community Services District (MCS D), community leaders and contractors gathered to break ground on the new McKinleyville BMX Park.

Seven years in the making, the 3-acre facility will feature a BMX track, playground, basketball half-court, pickleball court, landscaping, plants and more near the corner of School Road and Washington Avenue. Nearly seven years in the making, the park is at last being graded in preparation for the build.

The project was made possible by a $2,331,375 grant from the Prop 68 State-wide Park Development Program.

Dignitaries at the ground-breaking envision the new park as a vibrant, all-access community gathering place.

COMMUNITY HUB The McKinleyville BMX Park includes a track, a basketball court, pickleball court, a concession/registration building, inclusive playgrounds, picnic tables, a walking path, edible and native landscaping, public art, interpretive signs, a gated parking lot and security lighting. IMAGE VIA MCS D

MCS D Board President Jim Biteman explained the park’s larger vision and mission. “Today marks more than just the start of a construction project,” he said. “It marks the beginning of a new chapter for our community, that embraces recreation, wellness and the power of coming together to create something lasting and inclusive.”

Park advocate Jason Orlandi said the park will provide healthy options for area youth and help avert behavioral issues that stem from lack of activities. He thanked the community for its broad support of the project.

Speakers mentioned former MCS D General Manager Norm Shopay and former Parks and Rec Director Lesley Frisbee for their key support.

Construction at the facility is expected to be complete by late summer for an early fall opening.

OPINION

❖ It's sooooo easy to get your letter published in the Mad River Union: First, sign your letter with a real name and a city of origin, plus a phone number (which won't be published) for identity verification. Then, send it to opinion@madriverunion.com, or the physical address listed on page 2. Finally, make paragraphs, spell check, don't double space and don't capitalize random words. Basically, don't use Martian punctuation and everything will be fine.

The Roger's deception

I liked your illustration of the proposed affordable housing project at Roger's Garage. One would never guess from it that the apartments would be tucked between single-family houses at the base of a hill, completely filling the available land. The non-existent public transport bus (symbolically colored green) is a nice touch also.

Adding 53 units to a residential neighborhood that is already impacted by parking shortages is an obvious non-starter, so what is going on? A theory: by proposing to address Arcata's affordable housing problem, Danco can wrinkle money out of the city to do predevelopment work on the site. By investing money in the project, the city can claim to be Doing Something for housing, so that's a win for the city.

By the time Danco concludes that the project has to be scaled back dramatically, the project will have inertia behind it such that the city will support whatever final plan is devised just to save face, so that's a win for Danco. McMansion, anyone? It is bait and switch.

In more general terms, the play is this: You identify a real problem (if it's minor, inflate its importance first). Then you put forward a "solution" that is drastically over the top and would create even bigger problems if implemented.

Design it so you can make money from some aspect of the plan. Play it out as long as doing so is profitable, then walk away saying "I tried, I really tried with my Big Beautiful Solution, oh well" and move to the next thing. The people whose lives were disrupted, financial futures put at risk, suffered needless chaos? Collateral damage.

That ought to sound familiar these days, and shame on the city for either not recognizing the play, or deciding to go along with it for the short-term benefit of being seen to "do something – anything" about housing. Housing needs to be developed, but not this way.

BL recall unhelpful

I was disappointed to see that recall notices were served to three of our city council members at the city council meeting last night.

I'm worried that this recall will create even more unnecessary divisiveness in Blue Lake and keep us in chaos during a time that important decisions need to be made. In recent election years, it's been hard to find anyone willing to run for city council and now I suspect it will be even harder.

I don't understand why those supporting the recall – and our local media – seem to have turned a letter from the state asking the city for a new timeline on approving the Housing Element into assertions that the council does not support affordable housing and is endangering the city's finances.

I think some may have forgotten that the city now has a tight timeline for approving the Housing Element because the last city staff and council did not develop and approve it when they had the opportunity. Now this brand new council needs to be given the time to understand it too, along with many other complex city issues.

I hope that Blue Lake voters will reject the recall and let this council do their jobs, now that they have staff who is following their direction.

Trinidad history, sale and spree, TCLT workday, lighthouse, Open Studios, Taste of Trin

The Spanish navy, on board the Santiago and the Sonora, sailed into today's Trinidad Bay on June 9, 1775, 250 years ago, claiming and naming Puerto de la Santissima Trinidad for King Carlos III of Spain on Trinity Sunday, June 11, 1775. It was the first contact between Europeans and the Yurok people of Tsurai village.

The Spanish remained in Trinidad for 10 days before sailing north for further exploration of the Pacific Northwest, with Captain Juan Francisco de la Bodega y Quadra reaching 58 degrees latitude (today's Alaska) on the schooner Sonora before scurvy debilitated the mariners, forcing them to sail south in August, reaching Monterey on Oct. 8, with the crew of 16 so sick they had to be carried from the vessel.

The Tsurai village people were not fearful of the extraordinary sight of an enormous frigate and a schooner sailing into the bay. They came in canoes to greet and trade with the Spaniards.

Captains Bruno de Hezeta, Bodega y Quadra, Pilots Antonio Mourelle and Juan Perez and Father Campa wrote journals recounting impressions of the land and the people. Your columnist has studied this fascinating period, and the Spanish exploration of the Pacific Northwest between 1769 and 1795.

A short talk on the Spanish in Trinidad will be presented at the Thursday, June 5 meeting of the Trinidad Civic Club at 11:15 a.m. (the TCC business meeting starts at 10 a.m.) in the Club Room, Town Hall.

Another presentation will take place on Saturday, June 7 at 2:30 p.m. at the Clarke Museum in Eureka. A more extensive talk will be presented on Wednesday, July 30 from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at Trinidad Museum as part of the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute (OLLI) program through Cal Poly Humboldt.

Community Yard Sale and Second-hand Spree on June 7

Trinidad will hold a Community Yard Sale on Saturday, June 7 between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. Watch for flags at homes up and down the streets of the town.

Culinary journey returns chef Trevor to Humboldt, Mad River Kitchen

Good food is very often, even most often, simple food. – Anthony Bourdain

Trevor Eliason is the chef and principal owner of Mad River Kitchen LLC, located at the Paskenta Mad River Brewery in Blue Lake. Born and raised in Humboldt County, Trevor's trajectory towards a career in the restaurant industry is an interesting one.

After high school, he moved to Santa Cruz to attend Cabrillo Community College. He worked in the dining hall along with many international students. "This was a good place to begin learning cooking basics while experiencing the chaotic fun of the kitchen" stated Trevor.

He then moved back to Humboldt County where he was fortunate to be employed as one of the team that opened the hugely popular Hurricane Kate's in Eureka in the mid 2000s. The next step on the career ladder was to attend culinary school in Portland, Oregon. Trevor graduated at the top of his class, which enabled him to pick his externship at the French Laundry in Yountville. He worked for two years under the guidance of renowned chef Thomas Keller at both the French Laundry and Bouchon.

The food and wine pairing industry of Napa County heightened Trevor's appreciation of flavors while giving him an opportunity to drink a lot of good wine. He spent the next 10 years working for Far Niente, an umbrella of fine wineries based on the Italian saying "Dolce Far Niente" (sweet life to do nothing). Korbrand, a worldwide winery group was the next step on his path.

Trevor's next career decision was to move back to Humboldt County so he could be near family. His creation of the Mad River Kitchen is the perfect partner of food pairing with the acclaimed brews of Mad River Brewery. Along with classic pub food, Mad River Kitchen offers unique dishes such as the Koola salad and a memorable bowl of chili.

Trevor will be rolling out new summer specials including tuna rice bowl, shrimp tostada, moco loco, watermelon salad, mac and cheese and ribs. "I want to keep producing fresh tasty food for the people" stated Trevor. The Mad River Kitchen is open Thursday through Monday from noon to 9 p.m.

Dell'Arte gears up for Baduwa't Fest

DELL'ARTE INTERNATIONAL

BLUE LAKE – Dell'Arte International presents an original adaptation of a comedy by Molière, Love's the Best Doctor, at the 35th Annual Baduwa't Festival.

Trying to find love is like trying to find a primary care physician in Humboldt: damn near impossible, and lucky if you find a keeper.

Will I ever get my basic needs met? Is there a copay for love? Will the insurance company ever let me talk to a real person, or is it all advice from AI?

One good cure for this malaise we find ourselves living in is laughter. So, kick off the summer with loads of laughs as the performers tear up the stage with physical antics, desperate dreams, and comedic precision in a play full of the kind of people you'll recognize.

Modern life infuses classic commedia comic satire in this outdoor show. Imagine thwarted lovers, controlling parents, a quagmire of self-serving saviors and insurance agents, and some people who are just trying to get through the workday unharmed.

Featuring stethoscopes galore, a cast of incredible "Dell'Artians," the amazing band of Marla Joy, Tim Randles, Jeff Kelley and Mike LaBolle – and even some pampered cats with their own inner monologues—Love's the Best Doctor will be performed nightly in the Dell'Arte amphitheater.

The show is adapted and directed by Michael Fields with original tunes by Tim Randles.

Love's the Best Doctor will play outdoors in the amphitheater Friday through Sunday, June 20 to July 6. No show on July 4. The show starts at 8 p.m.

Advance tickets are recommended. Get them today at dellarte.com.

About the Baduwa't Festival

Formerly known as the Mad River Festival, the Baduwa't Festival is a beloved summer event celebrating the performing arts, music, and connection. In Soulatluk, the Wiyot language, Baduwa't is the name for what white settlers later called the Mad River.

The festival name change was approved by Wiyot leaders in Spring 2021 and Dell'Arte is honored to support the work of the Wiyot Tribe to revitalize the language by using the original name of the river for the festival name.

HONORING VETS Ben Goulart, aka The Mural Man, recently worked with the folks at the Nation's Finest, an organization that provides support to veterans and their families, to create this mural at the organization's office at 109 Fourth St. in Eureka. "After reading their website and info, I really wanted to help them paint this mural they wanted," Goulart said. "I also come from a family of service people, and both of my grampas were in the military during WWII and Pearl Harbor. So it feels good to help honor all service people including my own family! We worked for months on an amazing design to fit their budget, while honoring the people who have served our country." PHOTO BY BEN GOULART

OPEN STUDIO IN ARCATA Arcata artist Gigi Floyd is excited to be sharing her newest ceramic series, as well as earlier works, during the first weekend of North Coast Open Studios 2025. Floyd's home studio, located at 728 Villa Way, Arcata, will be open on Saturday and Sunday, June 7-8, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. She will also be open for NCOS Art Night on Friday, June 6 from 6 to 9 p.m. Floyd returned to working in clay a year and half ago, after a 32-year absence. Her latest series focuses on some of the textural possibilities when working in this medium. Floyd says that she's always been drawn to the "earthier" aspects of clay and enjoys the challenge of 'making her mark' in ways that keep the work looking fresh and alive. This current series features deeply textured hand-built platter forms as well as vessels that have been thrown on the wheel and then altered by hand. Floyd will also be displaying traditional functional pottery, original beeswax collages, beeswaxed critter prints, and framed bird-themed collage reproductions. "Per a 2024 Jam Cruise writer, "This was the soul music I grew up with in the '60s and '70s, but I confess I wasn't expecting [Diggin Dirt] to be throwing it down this hard. This group is impossibly tight, and Zach Alder might be the best soul shouter I've ever heard, and I've heard a few."

HUMBOLDT CRABS

NEW ENTRANCE Workers scrambled late last week to put the finishing touches on the new entrance to the Arcata Ball Park. Even on Thursday, they were still pouring cement, but by opening night on Friday the project was largely completed, with only a few small details to work out. On opening night, 1,255 fans showed up.

MATT FILAR | UNION

Lots of love during opening weekend

Opening Night for the Humboldt Crabs is always a love fest at the Arcata Ball Park. The 81st season was even more of a love fest with fans lining up at the new front entrance and greeting old friends as they waited in the line that stretched back for a block.

The day started out great for me as I went to a dreaded dentist appointment. Turns out that my new hygienist was a Crabs fan and we talked Crabs all the way through the procedure. She was gentle and efficient, a bonus.

“My four-and-a-half year-old son has been reminding me all day that the Crabs start tonight,” she said. Both she and her husband had attended Crabs Camp as kids. “In fact, we met at Babe Ruth,” she added. Now that’s a baseball family!

When I got to the park at 5:30 to meet our hard-working photographer, Matt Filar, the fans were already lined up. I slipped in at the staff entrance and was instantly in baseball heaven. There were Scarlet Palmer, Larry Zerlang, Super Fan Tam, Mary Ellen Barthman and Matt, all ready with great story ideas for a season of Crab Gab. I love just wandering around the park and thinking of fun things to write about. And I love getting suggestions for Crab Gab.

The young people who work in possibly the world’s best summer jobs were bustling around. Barthman told me that they’d had more applications for jobs than ever before. From the look of things, they had hired the best. I watched a young woman pounding wooden stakes into the ground around the not-quite-grown grass in a section in the kid’s area while another took responsibility for moving barriers around the training area.

Noah Lurtz, the beloved candy seller, came by and pronounced his approval of the new ramp onto the left field play area. “It’s a longer walk but so much better,” he said.

I wandered over to get my baseball supper: a hot dog with all the fixings. While I was in line I chatted with Kieran, a newly minted teacher of chemistry, who was loving teaching at Eureka High. He told me that he had walked to the game and I joked that there should be discounts for fans who didn’t add to the parking place rodeo. Got my supper and ate on the bleachers by first base. By this time, little kids were telling their parents, “I’m going to play with my friends (in the kids’ area).” That’s one of the greatest things about the ball park – it’s a safe, family-friendly place.

Scarfed down my hot dog so I could scoot over for the national anthem. I like to stand next to Super Fan Tam as she signs the words. I sang with gusto because the man in the row behind me was singing that way too. We agreed afterward that it was always great to sing the words of The Star-Spangled Banner. Bonus points for hitting the high notes.

Later, I got dessert, a slice of chocolate silk pie. The best. Oh, and the Crabbies won. What better way to start a season!

Season begins with victories

MAD RIVER UNION

ARCATA – With a new facelift at the Arcata Ballpark to start the 2025 season, the Humboldt Crabs wasted no time getting back to their winning ways.

With the Novato Knicks visiting Humboldt to start the season, the Crabs debuted the revamped Arcata Ballpark with its snazzy looking new facade. But before the three game weekend series was over, they would be looking like the same old Crabs Humboldt has come to love.

It didn’t start that way, however, as two close-knit games saw the Crabs manufacturing runs and relying on quality pitching for a pair of wins, both by the score of 4 to 3. Brody Jacobs would earn the first win on Friday night.

The Crabs took advantage of walks, wild pitches and a fielder’s choice to put up two runs in the bottom of the sixth inning and hold Novato scoreless for the rest of the game to earn the win.

Saturday night’s game saw some hits in the ninth inning, Unfortunately the Crabs weren’t hitting, they were getting hit by pitches. Ouch! The bases were loaded as the Novato pitcher hit three Crabs batters. Maybe chalk it up to early season jitters. But he would not settle down as he walked Crabs batter Liam Forsyth scoring the winning run and giving the Crabs another 4-3 victory.

Is this the new Crabs? Manufacturing runs and eking out close-knit wins? Not on your life! There were 17 runs off of 19 hits on Sunday.

Right fielder Sutter Moss and first baseman Cayden Lee both slammed home runs.

David Zazueta pitched five innings and earned the win for the Crabs as the first weekend of the 2025 season is in the books.

The Fresno A’s are next to visit next weekend and The Stockton Pearls follow next for a two game set on Tuesday and Wednesday nights.
